LAUNCHED ON THE SEA OF LIFE

High School Graduates Hope For a Pleasant Voyage

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Fine Orations by the Three Honor Students—Splendid Address by President Smith, of the Clearfield Normal, Who Subscribed to Faith in Ideals.

The commencement exercises for the High school class of '14 were held at the opera house Wednesday night. The caps and gowns were worn, they arrived in time for this event. The stage was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses.

Rev. J. F. Johns gave the invocation. This was followed by music by the class and then the following orations:

Rachel Lee Powell, salutatorian, spoke on "The History of Music" in part as follows:

The History of Music. Of all the different phases of art, which deal with the expression of elevated thoughts, music is the soul's most expressive language. Every land has its distinctive architecture, sculpture, painting and literature, but music belongs to the whole world. It is the universal language which appeals to the universal heart of mankind.

The origin of music is purely a speculative question. Theories of Darwin, Spencer and Wallasek are prominent, but none has been acceptable to all students of the problem. Wallasek's theory states that music is derived from rhythmical system among primitive peoples almost extinct. Scales were gradually developed, but none survives from any nation older than the Greeks. Greek music shows greater refinement, elaboration and harmony.

Vocal music is employed to give force and emotional power to verse. Instrumental music shows love of technical display and great complexity of instruments.

Pagan Rome contributed little that was original. Scattered musical ideas were peculiar to individual nations.

Of the Netherlands in particular, the Venetian school, which gave instrumental music its independent basis. The renaissance and enlightenment stimulated vocal and instrumental music.

For the drama grew up during the middle ages, but was not established until the 16th century. During the 17th century Italian opera introduced its rationality.

To you, the members of the school board, our parents, friends, teachers, and classmates, the class of 1914 extends a hearty greeting. We realize that it is your interest in our welfare which has drawn so many of you here tonight, and we thank you for it. It is not your interest in us personally which we appreciate most, however, but your interest in what we have accomplished. We only ask that that interest in our High school and its work shall never fail. We bid you a hearty welcome.

Paul Watson's Oration.

Paul Watson, third honor student, spoke on the "Need of an American Merchant Marine". Among other things he said:

Mr. Watson spoke of the shipping prosperity of today and indifference of the United States and the decline of the United States merchant marine. There have been various causes of the decline and heedless marine policy of the United States. Because the United States has no merchant marine it is making a present of a billion dollars a year to foreign nations. This loss vitally affects the interests of the United States, because it causes the export of United States gold. Foreign nations are actively engaged in building ships and struggling for the prize of conveying United States commerce. In order to restore the United States marine the United States should abolish the old navigation laws; discriminate in favor of United States ships and establish a department of navigation. The United States will then save the billions now going to foreign nations.

First Honor Man.

James Weber, who earned off the first honor in the class of 1914, had for the subject of his oration, "The Science of Agriculture," saying in part:

In this great world of today,

where men contend daily with the problem of existence, there are many kinds of business which serve as a means of vital sustenance. Of all these agriculture is the chief and most important because it is the foundation of all human existence, and because it is a vital factor in the civilization of a people. The example of our country clearly shows how agriculture has benefited the people and aided in their culture and civilization. The corner stones of our unexampled prosperity lie in the production of our material, its manufacture and distribution.

If there is one lesson taught by history it is that the permanent greatness of any nation or state must ultimately depend upon its farming population. In every great crisis of the past a peculiar dependence has had to be placed on it, and this dependence has heretofore been justified.

We can never afford to lose that permanently typical American, the farmer, who owns his own farm.

Address to Classmates.

And now, fellow classmates, our High school days are ended. It behooves us well to step cautiously as we cross the threshold and emerge into the dazzling sunlight, the tumultuous whirl of the great outer world. Think not that all is sunshine nor that fame will wait upon your bidding. "He who would win must labor for the prize." We would fain linger, but the words we might utter are too sacred.

The solemn thought that this may be the last time that our dear old class shall meet unbroken chills and saddens every heart. Forgetting as we do all the heart wounds of class rivalry, let us bear away from this place the precious casket of our strong, true love.

Comrades, farewell! God be with each one. If our next meeting be in the great hereafter, may an unclouded path of glorious labor, toil and triumph lead back and back amid and beyond the scenes of time's life and this dear spot, where now we say our last fond farewell.

President Smith's Address.

Prof. Thomas H. Smith, president of the state normal school at Clarion, delivered an address "at the audience and to the class." He said "I believe in practical knowledge and work"

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS HAVE BEEN FILED

Only Eight Report Paying Out More Than $50

Wednesday was the last day upon which candidates before the voters at the May primaries might file accounts of their expenditures during the campaign. Only a small number of candidates swear that they paid more than $50 in the campaign. Those candidates who exceeded that amount and who filed accounts Wednesday are:

H. A. Landis, treasurer Group 6, Washington party, received $37 and expended $36.33.

W. A. Haggerty, treasurer of the Democratic party county committee received $125 from Senator Dimelmg and expended $130.

Leslie Stewart, treasurer of the Republican county committee, received $125 from Charles Roland and M. I. McCright and expended all but $1.52.

W. E. Tobias, Democratic candidate for congress, spent $52.60.

Edward R. Benson, Democratic candidate for congress, expended about $1000.

W. H. Patterson, Democratic candidate for state senator, expended $340.80.

S. J. Miller, Republican candidate for state senator, expended $550, having received $188 from John C. Foy.

The candidates for legislature expended the following amounts:

James M. Rowles, $55.56.

Joe E. Phillips, $93.

A. L. Edwards, $140.

C. M. Alcorn, $100.

The other prominent candidates either expended less than $50 or have thus far failed to file their expense accounts with the prothonotary.

New Machinery Installed.

P. B. Spackman, the West Side baker, has installed new machinery in his bake shop, including a sanitary bread mixer. Mr. Spackman invites the public to inspect his bakery, feeling assured that he has an establishment which is worthy of commendation.

Sheriff Mahaffey Much Better

Sheriff Mahaffey's condition is greatly improved and there is now every assurance of his recovery.

BOTH PRISONERS ARE CONVICTED

Second Degree Verdict Against Caro and Mastrianna

BLACK MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Jury at First Were in Favor of First Degree Murder in His Case. But Changed to a Lower Finding Under Impression They Both Must Have Same Degree.

To the surprise of the public the jury before which Paul Caro and Raphael Mastrianna were tried for the killing of Antonio Matafiro, after being out about three hours, pronounced shortly after 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening that it was ready to return a verdict. The ringing of the court house bell brought the court officials and a great throng of people to the court room. At 8:30 Judge Bell was on the bench and the jury filed in. Prothonotary Moore received the sealed verdict, tore open the envelope and handed the document to Judge Bell, who, after noting what the verdict was, returned it to the prothonotary.

Murder in Second Degree. Prothonotary Moore asked the jurors if the verdict he held in his hand was the one they had agreed to, and all of the jurors declared it was.

The jury had found both Caro and Mastrianna were guilty of murder in the second degree. The verdict seems to give some satisfaction, and the prisoners are regarded as being fortunate that they were not convicted of murder in the first degree.

The usual motion for arrest of judgment pending a probable motion for a new trial was made by W. C. Miller, of counsel for the prisoners.

Judge Bell's Charge.

In his charge to the jury Wednesday afternoon Judge Bell gave the jury careful, explicit instructions as to its duty in considering the evidence presented by both sides. He sketched by the commonwealth and the deed the evidence that had been present fence and was impartial in commenting upon this evidence.

Judge Bell discharged the jury with the thanks of the court for the faithful and able manner in which the members had performed their arduous duties.

The jury evidently eliminated the plea of self-defense from the case, nor did they appear to believe that the statement that Caro had made threats against Matafiro, as was dwelt upon by the commonwealth in the trial.

Caro's Narrow Escape.

When the jury took its first ballot it decided to find Caro guilty of murder in the first degree, and Mastrianna guilty of murder in the second degree, but after talking the matter over decided that the same verdict must be rendered against both men. This is why Caro escaped being sent to the electric chair, the jury having no doubt of his guilt, but, through a misunderstanding, giving both men the same degree of crime.

Caro the Leader.

It was evident to those who listened in these cases that Caro was the leader in the trouble which culminated in the death of Matafiro, and that if Mastrianna had anything to do with the murder his work consisted in joining in the plot against Matafiro's life and not in the use of a weapon on the day of the shooting.

The consensus of opinion is that Caro and Mastrianna have received no more than they deserved. They are by no means desirable citizens, and the term they will serve in the penitentiary may be a wholesome lesson to them that while they are in America they cannot engage in vendettas or other murderous acts.

BICYCLE TRIP

Monday morning is the time for the six-day bicycle trip to start. Every fellow that is going is looking forward to a great time on the trip. Anyone who wishes to go and is not yet signed up, should do so at once. Expenses will not exceed $5. The only necessary equipment, is a blanket, puncture repairs, and a bicycle.

Everyone should be on hand bright and early Monday morning so that the bunch will be able to start by 6 o'clock. Indians will be the trip for the first day.

BOND MEASURE PASSES COUNCIL

Will Bear Four Per Cent. Interest and Run For 30 Years

COUNCIL WILL AID FIREMEN

To Look After Interests of Several Companies—Representative of Pittsburgh Company Talks on Street Surfacing—Councilman Tate Resigns—Special Session.

There was considerable discussion of more or less important questions at the session of borough council on Wednesday night and the sum of the business transacted was not great.

Burgess Callahan reported a large number of violations of the sanitary laws by property owners on Daisy street, who use outside closets, although that street is provided with sewers. The board of health will look into this matter, as it will also investigate similar cases on Dorey street.

Awaiting the maps necessary to provide the necessary data the matter of vacating an alley on Dr. Nevling's property on the West Side was postponed.

Want Street Widened.

Attention of council was called to the fact that a part of Front street on the West Side, which ought to be as wide as the other section of the street, is only about ten feet wide and that it could be made the proper width by cutting off a portion of the lot of J. Boynton Nevling. The matter will be further looked into.

Fourth ward firemen, who some years ago bought a lot for a fire engine house, paying $200 down and agreeing to pay $200 more and who now find that they have an elephant on their hands, petitioned council to come to their aid. It has been learned that the lot in question is one of several upon which a mortgage has been filed, and under the circumstances it is likely that an effort will be made to sell the lot and buy another one, unless the holder of the mortgage will except the lot from his lien.

Some Suggestions.

Former President of Council Roseberry was present and made some suggestions as to improvements on Bigler avenue, including the necessity for repairing sidewalks, removal of a pile of junk along the street, and urged council to issue the forthcoming bonds in denominations small enough to enable small investors to purchase them.

A representative of the Barrett Manufacturing company, of Pittsburgh was present and spoke at length upon the proposition of his company to resurface South Second street with a compound, stating that the work could be done for about 60 or 65 cents per square yard.

Bond Ordinance Passed.

The ordinance relating to the issuing of bonds was read and adopted. The bill provides that the bonds shall bear four per cent. interest, be issued in denominations of $100 and $500 and run until 1944, although the borough may redeem them earlier. The finance committee recommended that the first money be expended in meeting the needs of the fire companies in paving and curbing Daisy street, and in placing sewer on Spruce street.

It was decided to make the percentage for collecting taxes this year the same as in 1913, with the usual rebates and penalties.

The matter of straightening Latimer street was thoroughly discussed, and the borough solicitor was directed to look into the legal phases of the question.

Councilman Tate Resigns.

Councilman Abe Tate, of the Third ward, tendered his resignation as a member of council, and it was accepted. Mr. Tate will devote his entire time to his stone quarry, and feels that he would not be doing his duty to his constituents were he to remain in council. Council will elect a successor to Mr. Tate in the near future.

There will be a special session of council next Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking up and passing upon the improvements which council expects to make in the borough this summer, and to transact such other business as may come before the body.

Just Because He Was?

Judge—Are you a waiter? Prisoner—Yes, Judge—You can serve six months in jail—Judge.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Board of Trustees Not Yet Organized in Clearfield.

Women from all over the state assembled in Pittsburgh for the first annual conference of the mothers' pension boards of Pennsylvania. The initial session was marked by the delivery of an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong.

After luncheon, the delegates heard the reports of officers and chairmen of committees and disposed of other routine business. Speaker Alter, of the state house of representatives, Rabbi Coffee, Rev. Thomas Devlin, Auditor General Powell and others prominent in the mothers' pensions movement and in state politics, addressed the body. The conference will consume four days, sessions being held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Up to this time the Clearfield county trustees of the mothers' pension fund have not met to organize. The county commissioners are prepared to pay pensions recommended by the trustees and wait the action of the board in the matter.

FRESHMEN PICNIC

Girls Defeat Boys in an Exciting Baseball Game.

On Wednesday afternoon about 50 members of the Freshmen class had a very delightful class picnic at Golden Rod camp, near the mouth of Clearfield creek. A most exciting game of baseball took place between the girls and the boys. The boys went down to defeat under the expert pitching of Mary Liveright. Elizabeth Reed showed much skill as a catcher.

A relay race and various games followed the ball game. A very sumptuous lunch was served to which all of the Freshmen did ample justice.

Miss Jane Edwards and George Algier acted as chaperons.

Present Your Bills.

The Senior class of 1914 is about to dissolve. "Time" has issued an injunction against it doing business as a corporate body. Persons having an account against this class will present the same to Geo. E. Zerfass, the appointed receiver.

"Political Posthumous" Mexico Now in Question

ALL DEPENDS ON CARRANZA

Statement by Dictator's Deputy. Niagara Conference Opposed to United States to Support Carranza From Arrivals of Villa and Huerta. Trying to Influence Ruben.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—The main issue in the Mexican situation again rested with Washington. Mexican delegates to the state conferences have formally agreed that General Huerta is ready to deny the right of Huerta to act on any conditions as to his resignation. General Huerta will retire to Mexico in a peace, when some organized revolt in progress; when men of the armies now in the field shall have returned to their homes, order is restored.

This, it was learned, was the position intended to be conveyed to statement which the Mexican delegates were authorized to issue as the forth position of the situation.

The Mexican delegates do not want that disorganized bands which are scattered throughout the country should before Huerta steps down they are merely regarded as the But they do expect "nothing" which means cessation of hostilities the north.

That Huerta has taken the position that the United States must come from the Constitution and not from the United States. The of the mediators to the state of Constitutionalists will be named. Rafael Huerta of the Constitution, in Washington. This step is deemed to ask again whether the Constitutionalists are willing to discuss armistice and discuss armistice as an international question in the service here.

Much depends on the final step. General Carranza may make to the demands.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Fine Orations by the Three Honor Students—Splendid Address by President Smith, of the Clarior Normal, Who Subscribed to Faith in Ideals.

BOTH PRISONERS ARE CONVICTED

Second Degree Verdict Against Caro and Mastrianna

BLACK MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Jury at First Were in Favor of First Degree Murder in His Case, But Changed to a Lower Finding Under Impression They Both Must Have Same Degree.

To the surprise of the public the jury before which Paul Caro and Raphael Mastrianna were tried for the killing of Antonio Matafro, after being out about three hours, pronounced shortly after 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening that it was ready to return a verdict. The ringing of the court house bell brought the court officials and a great throng of people to the court room. At 8:30 Judge Bell was on the bench and the jury filed in. Prothonotary Moore received the sealed verdict, tore open the envelope and handed the document to Judge Bell, who, after noting what the verdict was, returned it to the prothonotary.

Murder in Second Degree.

Prothonotary Moore asked the jurors if the verdict he held in his hand was the one they had agreed to, and all of the jurors declared it was.

The jury had found both Caro and Mastrianna were guilty of murder in the second degree. The verdict seems to give some satisfaction, and the prisoners are regarded as being fortunate that they were not convicted of murder in the first degree.

The usual motion for arrest of judgment pending a probable motion for a new trial was made by W. C. Miller, of counsel for the prisoners.

Judge Bell's Charge.

In his charge to the jury Wednesday afternoon Judge Bell gave the jury careful, explicit instructions as to its duty in considering the evidence presented by both sides. He sketched by the commonwealth and the defense the evidence that had been presented and was impartial in commenting upon this evidence.

Judge Bell discharged the jury with the thanks of the court for the faithful and able manner in which the members had performed their arduous duties.

The jury evidently eliminated the plea of self-defense from the case, nor did they appear to believe that the statement that Caro had made threats against Matafro, as was dwelt upon by the commonwealth in the trial.

Caro's Narrow Escape.

When the jury took its first ballot it decided to find Caro guilty of murder in the first degree, and Mastrianna guilty of murder in the second degree, but after talking the matter over decided that the same verdict must be rendered against both men. This is why Caro escaped being sent to the electric chair, the jury having no doubt of his guilt, but, through a misunderstanding, giving both men the same degree of crime.

Caro the Leader.

It was evident to those who listened in these cases that Caro was the leader in the trouble which culminated in the death of Matafro, and that if Mastrianna had anything to do with the murder his work consisted in joining in the plot against Matafro's life and not in the use of a weapon on the day of the shooting. The consensus of opinion is that Caro and Mastrianna have received no more than they deserved. They are by no means desirable citizens, and the town they will serve in the penitentiary may be a wholesome lesson to them that while they are in America they cannot engage in vendettas or other murderous acts.

BICYCLE TRIP

Anyone who wishes to go and is not yet signed up, should do so at once. Expenses will not exceed $5. The only necessary equipment is a blanket, puncture repairs, and a bicycle. Everyone should be on hand bright and early Monday morning so that the bunch can be able to start by 6 o'clock. Indiana will be the trip for the first day.

BOND MEASURE PASSES COUNCIL

Will Bear Four Per Cent. Interest and Run For 30 Years

COUNCIL WILL AID FIREMEN

To Look After Interests of Several Companies—Representative of Pittsburgh Company Talks on Street Surfacing—Councilman Tate Resigns—Special Session.

There was considerable discussion of more or less important questions at the session of borough council on Wednesday night and the sum of the business transacted was not great.

Burgess Callahan reported a large number of violations of the sanitary laws by property owners on Daisy street, who use outside closets, although that street is provided with sewers. The board of health will look into this matter, as it will also investigate similar cases on Dorey street.

Awaiting the maps necessary to provide the necessary data the matter of vacating an alley on Dr. Neveling's property on the West Side was postponed.

Want Street Widened.

Attention of council was called to the fact that a part of Front street on the West Side, which ought to be as wide as the other section of the street, is only about ten feet wide and that it could be made the proper width by cutting off a portion of the lot of J. Boynton Neveling. The matter will be further looked into.

Fourth ward firemen, who some years ago bought a lot for a fire engine house, paying $200 down and agreeing to pay $200 more and who now find that they have an elephant on their hands, petitioned council to come to their aid. It has been learned that the lot in question is one of several upon which a mortgage has been filed, and under the circumstances it is likely that an effort will be made to sell the lot and buy another one, unless the holder of the mortgage will except the lot from his lien.

Some Suggestions.

Former President of Council Rosebery was present and made some suggestions as to improvements on Bigler avenue, including the necessity for repaving sidewalks, removal of a pile of junk along the street, and urged council to issue the forthcoming bonds in denominations small enough to enable small investors to purchase them.

A representative of the Barrett Manufacturing company, of Pittsburgh was present and spoke at length upon the proposition of his company to resurface South Second street with a compound, stating that the work could be done for about 60 or 65 cents per square yard.

Bond Ordinance Passed.

The ordinance relating to the issuing of bonds was read and adopted. The bill provides that the bonds shall bear four per cent. interest, be issued in denominations of $100 and $500 and run until 1944, although the borough may redeem them earlier. The finance committee recommended that the first money be expended in meeting the needs of the fire companies in paving and curbing Daisy street, and in placing sewer on Spruce street.

It was decided to make the percentage for collecting taxes this year the same as in 1913, with the usual rebates and penalties.

The matter of straightening Latimer street was thoroughly discussed, and the borough solicitor was directed to look into the legal phases of the question.

Councilman Tate Resigns.

Councilman Abe Tate, of the Third ward, tendered his resignation as a member of council, and it was accepted. Mr. Tate will devote his entire time to his stone quarry, and feels that he would not be doing his duty to his constituents were he to remain in council. Council will elect a successor to Mr. Tate in the near future.

There will be a special session of council next Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking up and passing upon the improvements which council expects to make in the borough this summer, and to transact such other business as may come before the body.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Board of Trustees Not Yet Organized in Clearfield.

Women from all over the state assembled in Pittsburgh for the first annual conference of the mothers' pension boards of Pennsylvania. The initial session was marked by the delivery of an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong.

After luncheon, the delegates heard the reports of officers and chairmen of committees and disposed of other routine business. Speaker Alter, of the state house of representatives, Rabbi Coffee, Rev. Thomas Devlin, Auditor General Powell and others prominent in the mothers' pensions movement and in state politics, addressed the body. The conference will consume four days, sessions being held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Up to this time the Clearfield county trustees of the mothers' pension fund have not met to organize. The county commissioners are prepared to pay pensions recommended by the trustees and wait the action of the board in the matter.

FRESHMEN PICNIC

Girls Defeat Boys in an Exciting Baseball Game.

On Wednesday afternoon about 50 members of the Freshmen class had a very delightful class picnic at Golden Rod camp, near the mouth of Clearfield creek. A most exciting game of baseball took place between the girls and the boys. The boys went down to defeat under the expert pitching of Mary Liveright. Elizabeth Reed showed much skill as a catcher.

A relay race and various games followed the ball game. A very sumptuous lunch was served to which all of the Freshmen did ample justice. Miss Jane Edwards and George Algier acted as chaperons.

Present Your Bills.

The Senior class of 1914 is about to dissolve. "Time" has issued an injunction against it doing business as a corporate body. Persons having an account against this class will present the same to Geo. E. Zerfoss, the appointed receiver.

AGAIN, HUERTA WILL RESIGN, IT

"Political Postmaster" Mexico Now His Goal

ALL DEPENDS ON CARRANZA

Statement by Dictator's Delegates. Niagara Conference Shows the United States in South America. From Armies of Villa and Huerta. Trying to Influence Huerta.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—Main issues in the Mexican situation again noted with Washington. Mexican delegates to the mothers' conference have formally stated that General Huerta is ready to resign but mostly placed in their statement are two words, setting forth the conditions under which the dictator will abdicate, which put the issue up to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

Huerta is prepared to withdraw when Mexico is "politically peaceful" and this means that the United States must bring pressure to bear on General Carranza to lay down his arms and deny the right of Huerta to act under any conditions as to his abdication. General Huerta will not allow Mexico to be at peace, when there is an organized revolt in progress; when the men of the armies now in the field shall have returned to their homes in order is restored.

This, it was learned, was the condition intended to be conveyed in the statement which the Mexican delegates were authorized to issue as setting forth the position of the dictator.

The Mexican delegates do not expect that disorganized bands which may be scattered throughout the country in subdued before Huerta steps out, as they are merely regarded as bandits. But they do expect "political peace" which means cessation of hostilities to the north.

That Huerta has taken the position that the United States must move him from the Constitution, and that Huerta is the better here. The reply of the mediators to the note of the Constitutionalists will be received by Rafael Zubaran of the Constitutionalists in Washington. This reply is understood to ask again whether the Constitutionalists are willing to discuss an armistice and discuss internal as well as international questions in the conference here.

Much depends on the final answer General Carranza may make to these demands.

AN HONORED GUEST.

Miss Clara E. Leonard is Visiting in Clearfield.

Miss Clara E. Leonard, sister of Miss Jane Leonard, preceptress of the state normal school of Indiana, is visiting Mrs. Wrigley, 411 East Market street. She was the guest of the Senior class president, William Young, at commencement last night. Miss Leonard is a wonderful woman, and the graduating class felt highly complimented to have her with them for its graduating exercises.

Miss Clara Leonard has three sisters and a brother who were teachers. Her elder sister, Miss Jane Leonard, was the first teacher on the ground at Indiana. Thirty-five years ago she started to teach there. She is now preceptress of the school and the idol of all Indiana graduates.

WHY?

Why is it called a commencement?
Probably because graduates only then
discover that they are beginning to learn something.

Good evening! Of course you remember how proud you were when
you graduated, although you may have been at the bottom of the class.

BOY SCOUTS.

The organization of a Boy Scout
company in Clearfield should receive
the hearty approval of every parent
in the town. The Boy Scouts is an organization which seeks to make
manly, courteous and self-reliant men
out of the boys of the United States.
The Scouts is not a military body;
they do not train under a military instructor, do not carry arms and are not taught to regard themselves as soldiers.

The Boy Scouts are expected to obey orders, to stand together in trouble, to keep themselves in good
moral and physical condition and to
so conduct themselves that they will
win the respect and cooperation of all citizens. The movement has the indorsement of those who have the best interests of the boys at heart. Clearfield parents should encourage their youngsters to join the movement begun in the East End by Rev. Mr.
Peters to organize the Boy Scouts in
this town.

The boy who unites with the Boy Scouts and lives up to the rules and regulations of the organization will
soon to do anything which is wrong
and will endeavor to improve his character. He will cease to run at large
at night or to loaf in or about pool
rooms. He will be taught that if he wishes to become a success in life he
must be honest and honorable in all things. Can anybody see anything wrong in this kind of a movement?

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS.

The members of the Clearfield
High school class of 1914 have launched their barks upon the sea of life.
They have been given good advice
as to how to steer their barks by the school authorities and others, and if
they follow the instructions of their
pilots they will eventually enter the
harbor of success without having encountered more than the ordinary
number of storms and troubles.

Each one of these graduates ought
to be equipped to meet and over-
come the difficulties, trials and tribulations which beset the feet of human beings. No member of the graduating class should permit the machinery of his or her mind or body to become rusty from disuse but all should
strive to win success by hard work
and perseverance. The goal of success is only won by those who keep
marching steadily forward, overcoming all obstacles and taking advantage of every opportunity for advancement.

Parents and friends will watch the progress made by the students and
every step forward will be applauded
and encouraged. Nobody wishes to place obstacles in the way of the
boy or girl who shows that he or
she is striving for the better things
of this life, everybody will deplore it
if any of the students who put behind them school life shall fall by
the wayside or prove that they have
not the stamina and determination
to win their way through the world.

Clearfield county sure looms up
large at the Central state normal school at Lock Haven. And the Clear
field county students at that institution do not remain in the background
either.

No more murder trials in this county until fall, at least.

HUERTA TELLS OF AN ATTEMPT ON HIS LIFE

Four Students Held, Charged With Shooting at Dictator.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 4.—Four students in the Agricultural school at Ta-
cuba, near Mexico City, are held in solitary confinement in the Santiago military prison charged with the attempted assassination of Provisional President Huerta, at whom they fired four shots last Sunday night. Two of the bullets lodged in the tonneau of Huer-
ta's touring car, while two others whiz-
ed dangerously near his head. The fate of the students is undecided, but
it is probable they will be shot.

The attempted assassination of Huer-
ta took place as the provisional president was returning from the military
execution of a number of mutinous federal soldiers who had been shot at Huerta's orders. The military execution took place against a wall of the Agricultural college, and all the students were compelled to line up behind
the firing squad and witness the killing, Huerta declaring it would inspire
them with loyalty and with dread of revolt.

The story is told by one of the most prominent English residents of Mexico
City, who has just reached Vera Cruz
on his way to Europe.

The Englishman says Huerta told him and others about the attempt while drinking cognac at El Globo, a

Huerta said, according to the English-
man:

"It was the closest call I have had.
After the revolting troops had been
shot I ordered the chauffeur to drive
on to Popotla. We had motored only a few yards when four rifle shots were fired at me.

"I made the chauffeur stop the automobile and returned to the school

students, and when I questioned them
three confessed and put the blame on

DEATHS OF A DAY.

Rev. J. M. Wheeler, eighty-four, died in Marietta, Pa. He was the oldest active minister in Lancaster county.

George A. Traylor, sixty-two, special agent of the United States department of labor, died in Philadelphia. He had been in the government service twenty-eight years.

Jamestown, N. Y., died in a hospital from the effects of a blow on the head by a pitched ball during a baseball game on Memorial day.

Mary E. Cheney, one of the most active
temperance workers in New England, died
in Dorchester from a fractured skull and
other injuries sustained three hours before when she fell down a flight of stairs.

Colonel George J. Krus, for years partner of the late Congressman Timothy D.
Sullivan, died in New York. His death
did not come as a surprise. Shortly after
"Big Tim" died the health of his partner
began to break, and two months ago his
condition became serious.

Alexander Smith Cochran's bronze hulled
yacht Vanitie heeled under the pressure
of a fresh wind so that her rail was almost down to the water's edge as she
crossed the finishing line in the first race
for the cup defenders a winner. She was close hauled on the wind and had sailed
the last six and one-eighth miles of the
course at the rate of 10.35 nautical miles
an hour, which is very fast for a seventy-five footer. As she swept between the flashing cone and the committee boat the
whistles of a hundred yachts screeched
congratulations, and the crew of the
steam yacht Mohican, led by Frederick
M. Davies, gave three rousing cheers for the winner.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys Occasionally if
you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat
regularly can make a mistake by
flushing the kidneys occasionally, say
a well-known authority. Meat forms
uric acid which excites the kidneys,
they become over-worked from the
strain get sluggish and fail to filter
the waste and poisons from the blood
then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness sleeplessness and
urinary disorders come from sluggish
kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache
in the kidneys or your back hurts or
if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full
of sediment, irregular of passage or
attended by a sensation of scalding,
stop eating meat and get about four
ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass
of water before breakfast and in a
few days your kidneys will act fine.
This famous salts is made from the
acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used
for generations to flush and stimulate
the kidneys, also to neutralize the
acids in urine so it no longer causes
irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot
injure; makes a delightful efferves-
cent lithia-water drink which every-
one should take now and then to
keep the kidneys clean and active
and the blood pure, thereby avoiding
serious kidney complications.

SAYS CAPT. KENDALL TRIED TO DROWN SELF

Official Relates How He Clung to Rail of Vessel.

Montreal, June 4.—That Captain H. G. Kendall of the Empress of Ireland tried to go down with his ship when she was rammed by the Storstad was the statement made here by a high official of the Canadian Pacific railroad.

This official said that the captain was so unstrung that he was still unable to give a detailed story of what he saw after the crash. He added: "The awful scenes Captain Kendall witnessed are too strongly impressed on his mind. I am convinced he intended to go down with his ship. He says that when the bridge touched the water he gripped the rail, intending to go down with his vessel and die at his post, but that when the ventilators went under there was an explosion that broke his grip and blew him to the surface."

Revelations are expected to come when the special commission named to investigate the disaster sits on July 9. Others are looked for when the inquiry is resumed at Father Point on Saturday. Three third class passengers are held there in order that their stories may be told regarding dark deeds in the steerage, where 718 passengers made a mad fight for safety.

Then it is believed the stab wounds found on many of the bodies will be explained.

It is reported that a number of the frenzied passengers, mostly foreigners, drew weapons in their effort to make their way from their quarters, which were far below the water line. When some bodies were picked up knives were still held in clenched hands.

The story is told that the body of at least one woman who tried to climb the stairs from below bore three long knife wounds.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any druggist a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 4.—There will be no demonstration in Fountain square, in Tarrytown, by Alexander Berkman or I. W. W. or any one else for a few days to come. Fountain square was the battleground on Saturday and Sunday, and it was there that it was announced the protesting meeting would be held. The village council in the course of repairing the streets of the village flooded the square with the soft, tarlike asphalt preparation that is used and then spread some gravel over it. It will be several days before it can be stood upon with comfort by either orator or audience.

The village authorities have sworn in fifty men, who will be delegated by Sheriff Doyle as special deputies. They will be on call at any time, day or night, ready to aim themselves with their badges and batons and fall in with the police and deputy sheriffs. Only residents of the vicinity will be called upon for this service.

Wants Teachers in Union.

East Liverpool, O., June 4.—An effort is being made by John H. Duffy, an organizer of the American Federation of Labor, to form the teachers of East Liverpool public schools into a local of the federation. Similar efforts several months ago were abandoned the teachers deciding they did not desire labor union affiliation.

MORE PAINTINGS RUINED.

Hacked With Hatchet by Young Woman Whom He Was Trying to Re- strain, After She Had Ruined Two Pictures—Disarmed and Captured. Other Outrages.

London, June 4.—A savage attack with a hatchet was made by a young militant suffragette on an attendant at the Dore gallery, who tried to prevent her destroying the valuable pictures on exhibition there. The woman who thus abandoned the principle of the sanctity of human life hitherto professed by militant suffragettes, had already ruined two paintings in the gallery, which is in New Bond Street, the heart of the fashionable quarter of London.

She was proceeding to hack a third picture when an attendant named Bourlet seized her arm. The vandal turned on the man furiously and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him. Other attendants rushed to the spot and quickly overpowered and disarmed her. She kicked, struggled and screamed for several minutes until she was banded over to the police.

The woman appeared to be of good education and was fashionably gowned.

Holloway Jail Doctor Whipped.

Suffragettes wreaked their vengeance for a second time on Dr. Francis Edward Forward, deputy governor and medical officer of Holloway Jail. Two women, armed with stout horsewhips, sprang upon the doctor as he left the prison and were thrashing him severely when a policeman came to his rescue and arrested his assailants. The women declared that their action was a protest against the "forcible feeding, for which this beast is responsible."

Dr. Forward refused to charge the women with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct. Once before, on Oct. 11, 1913, Dr. Forward was attacked in a similar manner.

An "arson squad" of suffragettes set fire to and destroyed a large cricket pavilion at Earlfield, to the southwest of London.

A dispatch from Belfast, Ireland, says an attempt was made near there by suffragettes to burn a residence, but it was discovered in time, and little damage was done.

DEDICATED HALL

Colored Masons Have a Very Pleasant Time at Franklin.

W. Banks Holmes, William Holmes Mason Russell and Willard Moore, of this place, went to Franklin Monday to represent West Branch lodge, No. 96, Masons, at the dedication of the handsome new hall erected by the colored Masons of that city. They returned last night, delighted with their trip, full of praise for the pretty, clean city of Franklin and grateful to the people of that place for courtesies received.

The hall was dedicated on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock followed by a banquet at 6 P. M. with dancing later. Many state officials of the order were present and took part in the ceremonies of dedication, and it was a big day for the colored Masons of this part of the state. Banks says that Franklin is a very pretty town, where the man who spits on the sidewalk is fined $1 and which is "dry" but he will not say how he discovered this latter fact.

but I believe more strongly in the having of ideals. Each man has an ideal that he is constantly trying to live up to, even if he will not acknowledge it. I believe in an education which gives to the student high ideals. There are people who say that the idealist is a dreamer and never gets any where because he aims too high. It is not so; the man with a well-developed ideal climbs higher than the man without.

I believe in an eight-hour day for the man who needs it. But the time of danger which tests a man's character does not come during the working hours; it comes during his leisure time. The boy is safe during the hours he is in school, it is the time between four and whatever hour of night or morning that mars his life. Recreation is needed only when there has been sufficient work before. The life of the scholar is not the soft snap, which some people think it is. It is just as hard physically as digging a ditch. The scholar's body is tired and worn just as much by his labor as the ditch digger's by his. There is no noble calling. It is the man who makes it noble. The cobbler on his bench who says like Hiram Dobson: "I'm a cobbler, by the Grace of God", ennoble his calling. So it is with all walks of life. What so ever path you choose, if you live a truthful, honest noble life yours is a noble calling."

This was followed by the benediction by Rev. Mr. Johns and the audience was dismissed.

LAUNCHED ON THE SEA OF LIFE

High School Graduates Hope For a Pleasant Voyage

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Fine Orations by the Three Honor Students—Splendid Address by President Smith, of the Clarior Normal, Who Subscribed to Faith in Ideals.

The commencement exercises for the High school class of '14 were held at the opera house Wednesday night. The caps and gowns were worn, they arrived in time for this event. The stage was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses.

Rev. J. F. Johns gave the invocation. This was followed by music by the class and then the following orations:

Rachel Lee Powell, salutatorian, spoke on "The History of Music" in part as follows:

The History of Music. Of all the different phases of art, which deal with the expression of elevated thoughts, music is the soul's most expressive language. Every land has its distinctive architecture, sculpture, painting and literature, but music belongs to the whole world. It is the universal language which appeals to the universal heart of mankind.

The origin of music is purely a speculative question. Theories of Darwin, Spencer and Wallasek are prominent, but none has been acceptable to all students of the problem. Wallasek's theory states that music is derived from rhythmic system among primitive peoples almost extinct. Scales were gradually developed, but none survives from any nation older than the Greeks. Greek music shows greater refinement, elaboration and harmony.

Vocal music is employed to give force and emotional power to verse. Instrumental music shows love of technical display and great complexity of instruments.

Pagan Rome contributed little that was original. Scattered musical ideas were peculiar to individual nations.

Of the Netherlands in particular, the Venetian school, which gave instrumental music its independent basis. The renaissance and enlightenment stimulated vocal and instrumental music.

For the drama grew up during the middle ages, but was not established until the 16th century. During the 17th century Italian opera introduced its rationality.

To you, the members of the school board, our parents, friends, teachers, and classmates, the class of 1914 extends a hearty greeting. We realize that it is your interest in our welfare which has drawn so many of you here tonight, and we thank you for it. It is not your interest in us personally which we appreciate most, however, but your interest in what we have accomplished. We only ask that that interest in our High school and its work shall never fail. We bid you a hearty welcome.

Paul Watson's Oration.

Paul Watson, third honor student, spoke on the "Need of an American Merchant Marine". Among other things he said:

Mr. Watson spoke of the shipping prosperity of today and indifference of the United States and the decline of the United States merchant marine. There have been various causes of the decline and heedless marine policy of the United States. Because the United States has no merchant marine it is making a present of a billion dollars a year to foreign nations. This loss vitally affects the interests of the United States, because it causes the export of United States gold. Foreign nations are actively engaged in building ships and struggling for the prize of conveying United States commerce. In order to restore the United States marine the United States should abolish the old navigation laws; discriminate in favor of United States ships and establish a department of navigation. The United States will then save the billions now going to foreign nations.

First Honor Man.

James Weber, who earned off the first honor in the class of 1914, had for the subject of his oration, "The Science of Agriculture," saying in part:

In this great world of today,

where men contend daily with the problem of existence, there are many kinds of business which serve as a means of vital sustenance. Of all these agriculture is the chief and most important because it is the foundation of all human existence, and because it is a vital factor in the civilization of a people. The example of our country clearly shows how agriculture has benefited the people and aided in their culture and civilization. The corner stones of our unexampled prosperity lie in the production of our material, its manufacture and distribution.

If there is one lesson taught by history it is that the permanent greatness of any nation or state must ultimately depend upon its farming population. In every great crisis of the past a peculiar dependence has had to be placed on it, and this dependence has heretofore been justified.

We can never afford to lose that permanently typical American, the farmer, who owns his own farm.

Address to Classmates.

And now, fellow classmates, our High school days are ended. It behooves us well to step cautiously as we cross the threshold and emerge into the dazzling sunlight, the tumultuous whirl of the great outer world. Think not that all is sunshine nor that fame will wait upon your bidding. "He who would win must labor for the prize." We would fain linger, but the words we might utter are too sacred.

The solemn thought that this may be the last time that our dear old class shall meet unbroken chills and saddens every heart. Forgetting as we do all the heart wounds of class rivalry, let us bear away from this place the precious casket of our strong, true love.

Comrades, farewell! God be with each one. If our next meeting be in the great hereafter, may an unclouded path of glorious labor, toil and triumph lead back and back amid and beyond the scenes of time's life and this dear spot, where now we say our last fond farewell.

President Smith's Address.

Prof. Thomas H. Smith, president of the state normal school at Clarion, delivered an address "at the audience and to the class." He said "I believe in practical knowledge and work

BOTH PRISONERS ARE CONVICTED

Second Degree Verdict Against Caro and Mastrianna

BLACK MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Jury at First Were in Favor of First Degree Murder in His Case. But Changed to a Lower Finding Under Impression They Both Must Have Same Degree.

To the surprise of the public the jury before which Paul Caro and Raphael Mastrianna were tried for the killing of Antonio Matafiro, after being out about three hours, pronounced shortly after 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening that it was ready to return a verdict. The ringing of the court house bell brought the court officials and a great throng of people to the court room. At 8:30 Judge Bell was on the bench and the jury filed in. Prothonotary Moore received the sealed verdict, tore open the envelope and handed the document to Judge Bell, who, after noting what the verdict was, returned it to the prothonotary.

Murder in Second Degree. Prothonotary Moore asked the jurors if the verdict he held in his hand was the one they had agreed to, and all of the jurors declared it was.

The jury had found both Caro and Mastrianna were guilty of murder in the second degree. The verdict seems to give some satisfaction, and the prisoners are regarded as being fortunate that they were not convicted of murder in the first degree.

The usual motion for arrest of judgment pending a probable motion for a new trial was made by W. C. Miller, of counsel for the prisoners.

Judge Bell's Charge.

In his charge to the jury Wednesday afternoon Judge Bell gave the jury careful, explicit instructions as to its duty in considering the evidence presented by both sides. He sketched by the commonwealth and the dead the evidence that had been present fence and was impartial in commenting upon this evidence.

Judge Bell discharged the jury with the thanks of the court for the faithful and able manner in which the members had performed their arduous duties.

The jury evidently eliminated the plea of self-defense from the case, nor did they appear to believe that the statement that Caro had made threats against Matafiro, as was dwelt upon by the commonwealth in the trial.

Caro's Narrow Escape.

When the jury took its first ballot it decided to find Caro guilty of murder in the first degree, and Mastrianna guilty of murder in the second degree, but after talking the matter over decided that the same verdict must be rendered against both men. This is why Caro escaped being sent to the electric chair, the jury having no doubt of his guilt, but, through a misunderstanding, giving both men the same degree of crime.

Caro the Leader.

It was evident to those who listened in these cases that Caro was the leader in the trouble which culminated in the death of Matafiro, and that if Mastrianna had anything to do with the murder his work consisted in joining in the plot against Matafiro's life and not in the use of a weapon on the day of the shooting.

The consensus of opinion is that Caro and Mastrianna have received no more than they deserved. They are by no means desirable citizens, and the term they will serve in the penitentiary may be a wholesome lesson to them that while they are in America they cannot engage in vendettas or other murderous acts.

BICYCLE TRIP

Everyone should be on hand bright and early Monday morning so that the bunch will be able to start by 6 o'clock. Indians will be the trip for the first day.

BOND MEASURE PASSES COUNCIL

Will Bear Four Per Cent. Interest and Run For 30 Years

COUNCIL WILL AID FIREMEN

To Look After Interests of Several Companies—Representative of Pittsburgh Company Talks on Street Surfacing—Councilman Tate Resigns—Special Session.

There was considerable discussion of more or less important questions at the session of borough council on Wednesday night and the sum of the business transacted was not great.

Burgess Callahan reported a large number of violations of the sanitary laws by property owners on Daisy street, who use outside closets, although that street is provided with sewers. The board of health will look into this matter, as it will also investigate similar cases on Dorey street.

Awaiting the maps necessary to provide the necessary data the matter of vacating an alley on Dr. Nevling's property on the West Side was postponed.

Want Street Widened.

Attention of council was called to the fact that a part of Front street on the West Side, which ought to be as wide as the other section of the street, is only about ten feet wide and that it could be made the proper width by cutting off a portion of the lot of J. Boynton Nevling. The matter will be further looked into.

Fourth ward firemen, who some years ago bought a lot for a fire engine house, paying $200 down and agreeing to pay $200 more and who now find that they have an elephant on their hands, petitioned council to come to their aid. It has been learned that the lot in question is one of several upon which a mortgage has been filed, and under the circumstances it is likely that an effort will be made to sell the lot and buy another one, unless the holder of the mortgage will except the lot from his lien.

Some Suggestions.

Former President of Council Roseberry was present and made some suggestions as to improvements on Bigler avenue, including the necessity for repairing sidewalks, removal of a pile of junk along the street, and urged council to issue the forthcoming bonds in denominations small enough to enable small investors to purchase them.

A representative of the Barrett Manufacturing company, of Pittsburgh was present and spoke at length upon the proposition of his company to resurface South Second street with a compound, stating that the work could be done for about 60 or 65 cents per square yard.

Bond Ordinance Passed.

The ordinance relating to the issuing of bonds was read and adopted. The bill provides that the bonds shall bear four per cent. interest, be issued in denominations of $100 and $500 and run until 1944, although the borough may redeem them earlier. The finance committee recommended that the first money be expended in meeting the needs of the fire companies in paving and curbing Daisy street, and in placing sewer on Spruce street.

It was decided to make the percentage for collecting taxes this year the same as in 1913, with the usual rebates and penalties.

The matter of straightening Latimer street was thoroughly discussed, and the borough solicitor was directed to look into the legal phases of the question.

Councilman Tate Resigns.

Councilman Abe Tate, of the Third ward, tendered his resignation as a member of council, and it was accepted. Mr. Tate will devote his entire time to his stone quarry, and feels that he would not be doing his duty to his constituents were he to remain in council. Council will elect a successor to Mr. Tate in the near future.

There will be a special session of council next Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking up and passing upon the improvements which council expects to make in the borough this summer, and to transact such other business as may come before the body.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Board of Trustees Not Yet Organized in Clearfield.

Women from all over the state assembled in Pittsburgh for the first annual conference of the mothers' pension boards of Pennsylvania. The initial session was marked by the delivery of an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong.

After luncheon, the delegates heard the reports of officers and chairmen of committees and disposed of other routine business. Speaker Alter, of the state house of representatives, Rabbi Coffee, Rev. Thomas Devlin, Auditor General Powell and others prominent in the mothers' pensions movement and in state politics, addressed the body. The conference will consume four days, sessions being held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Up to this time the Clearfield county trustees of the mothers' pension fund have not met to organize. The county commissioners are prepared to pay pensions recommended by the trustees and wait the action of the board in the matter.

FRESHMEN PICNIC

Girls Defeat Boys in an Exciting Baseball Game.

On Wednesday afternoon about 50 members of the Freshmen class had a very delightful class picnic at Golden Rod camp, near the mouth of Clearfield creek. A most exciting game of baseball took place between the girls and the boys. The boys went down to defeat under the expert pitching of Mary Liveright. Elizabeth Reed showed much skill as a catcher.

A relay race and various games followed the ball game. A very sumptuous lunch was served to which all of the Freshmen did ample justice.

Miss Jane Edwards and George Algier acted as chaperons.

AGAIN, HURTADO WILL RESIGN

"Political Posthumous" Mexico Now in Question

ALL DEPENDS ON CARRANZA

Statement by Dictator's Deputy. Niagara Conference Opposed to United States to Support Carranza From Arrivals of Villa and Huerta. Trying to Influence Huerta.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—The main issue in the Mexican situation again rested with Washington. Mexican delegates to the state conference have formally agreed that General Huerta is ready to resign, but nearly placed in their hands are two words, setting forth the conditions under which the Dictator abdicates, which put the issue again up to President Wilson and General Bryan.

Huerta is prepared to withdraw when Mexico is "politically quiet" and this means that the United States must bring pressure to bear on Carranza to lay down his arms or deny the right of Huerta to abdicate any conditions as to his abdication. General Huerta will withdraw from Mexico in a peace, when there is organized revolt in progress; when men of the armies now in the field shall have returned to their homes; order is restored.

This, it was learned, was the condition intended to be conveyed by statement which the Mexican delegates were authorized to issue as the forth the position of the Dictator.

The Mexican delegates do not want that disorganized bands which are scattered throughout the country should be before Huerta's eyes. But they do expect "political quiet" which means cessation of hostilities in the north.

That Huerta has taken the position that the United States must withdraw from the Constitution and that the United States must withdraw from the Constitution is the main issue in the Mexican situation. This is the position of the Dictator. This is the position of the Dictator. This is the position of the Dictator.

Much depends on the final action General Carranza may make to the demands.

LAUNCHED ON THE SEA OF LIFE

High School Graduates Hope For a Pleasant Voyage

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Fine Orations by the Three Honor Students—Splendid Address by President Smith, of the Clarior Normal, Who Subscribed to Faith in Ideals.

The commencement exercises for the High school class of '14 were held at the opera house Wednesday night. The caps and gowns were worn, they arrived in time for this event. The stage was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses.

Rev. J. F. Johns gave the invocation. This was followed by music by the class and then the following orations:

Rachel Lee Powell, salutatorian, spoke on "The History of Music" in part as follows:

The History of Music.

Of all the different phases of art, which deal with the expression of elevated thoughts, music is the soul's most expressive language. Every land has its distinctive architecture, sculpture, painting and literature but music belongs to the whole world. It is the universal language which appeals to the universal heart of mankind.

The origin of music is purely a speculative question. Theories of Darwin, Spencer and Wallaschek are prominent, but none has been acceptable to all students of the problem. Wallaschek's theory states that music is derived from rhythmic system among primitive peoples almost extinct. Scales were gradually developed, but none survives from any nation older than the Greeks. Greek music shows greater refinement, elaboration and harmony.

Vocal music is employed to give force and emotional power to verse. Instrumental music shows love of technical display and great complexity of instruments.

Pagan Rome contributed little that was original, but scattered musical ideas that have been peculiar to individual nations.

The influence of the Netherlands in all of Europe founded the Venetian school, which gave instrumental music an independent basis. The renaissance and reformation stimulated vocal and instrumental music.

Taste for the drama grew up during the middle ages, but was not satisfied until the 16th century. During the 18th century Italian opera introduced conventionalism.

To you, the members of the school board, our parents, friends, teachers, and classmates, the class of 1914 extends a hearty greeting. We realize that it is your interest in our welfare which has drawn so many of you here tonight, and we thank you for it. It is not your interest in us personally which we appreciate most, however, but your interest in what we have accomplished. We only ask that that interest in our High school and its work shall never fail. We bid you a hearty welcome.

Paul Watson's Oration.

Paul Watson, third honor student, spoke on the "Need of an American Merchant Marine." Among other things he said:

Mr. Watson spoke of the shipping prosperity of today and indifference of the United States and the decline of the United States merchant marine. There have been various causes of the decline and heedless marine policy of the United States. Because the United States has no merchant marine it is making a present of a billion dollars a year to foreign nations. This loss vitally affects the interests of the United States, because it causes the export of United States gold. Foreign nations are actively engaged in building ships and struggling for the prize of conveying United States commerce. In order to restore the United States marine the United States should abolish the old navigation laws; discriminate in favor of United States ships and establish a department of navigation. The United States will then save the billions now going to foreign nations.

First Honor Man.

James Weber, who carried off the first honor in the class of 1914, had for the subject of his oration, "The Science of Agriculture," saying in part:

In this great world of today,

where men contend daily with the problem of existence, there are many kinds of business which serve as a means of vital sustenance. Of all these agriculture is the chief and most important because it is the foundation of all human existence, and because it is a vital factor in the civilization of a people. The example of our country clearly shows how agriculture has benefited the people and aided in their culture and civilization. The corner stones of our unexampled prosperity lie in the production of our material, its manufacture and distribution.

If there is one lesson taught by history it is that the permanent greatness of any nation or state must ultimately depend upon its farming population. In every great crisis of the past a peculiar dependence has had to be placed on it, and this dependence has heretofore been justified.

We can never afford to lose that permanently typical American, the farmer, who owns his own farm.

Address to Classmates.

And now, fellow classmates, our High school days are ended. It behooves us well to step cautiously as we cross the threshold and emerge into the dazzling sunlight, the tumultuous whirl of the great outer world. Think not that all is sunshine nor that fame will wait upon your bidding. "He who would win must labor for the prize." We would fain linger, but the words we might utter are too sacred.

The solemn thought that this may be the last time that our dear old class shall meet unbroken cheers and saddens every heart. Forgetting as we do all the heart wounds of class rivalry, let us bear away from this place the precious casket of our strong, true love.

Comrades, farewell! God be with each one. If our next meeting be in the great hereafter, may an unclouded path of glorious labor, toil and triumph lead back and back amid and beyond the scenes of time's life and this dear spot, where now we say our last fond farewell.

President Smith's Address.

Prof. Thomas H. Smith, president of the state normal school at Clarion, delivered an address "at the audience and to the class." He said "I believe in practical knowledge and work

BOTH PRISONERS ARE CONVICTED

Second Degree Verdict Against Caro and Mastrianna

BLACK MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Jury at First Were in Favor of First Degree Murder in His Case, But Changed to a Lower Finding Under Impression They Both Must Have Same Degree.

To the surprise of the public the jury before which Paul Caro and Raphael Mastrianna were tried for the killing of Antonio Matafro, after being out about three hours, pronounced shortly after 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening that it was ready to return a verdict. The ringing of the court house bell brought the court officials and a great throng of people to the court room. At 8:30 Judge Bell was on the bench and the jury filed in. Prothonotary Moore received the sealed verdict, tore open the envelope and handed the document to Judge Bell, who, after noting what the verdict was, returned it to the prothonotary.

Murder in Second Degree. Prothonotary Moore asked the jurors if the verdict he held in his hand was the one they had agreed to, and all of the jurors declared it was.

The jury had found both Caro and Mastrianna were guilty of murder in the second degree. The verdict seems to give some satisfaction, and the prisoners are regarded as being fortunate that they were not convicted of murder in the first degree.

The usual motion for arrest of judgment pending a probable motion for a new trial was made by W. C. Miller, of counsel for the prisoners.

Judge Bell's Charge. In his charge to the jury Wednesday afternoon Judge Bell gave the jury careful, explicit instructions as to its duty in considering the evidence presented by both sides. He sketched by the commonwealth and the defendant the evidence that had been presented and was impartial in commenting upon this evidence.

Judge Bell discharged the jury with the thanks of the court for the faithful and able manner in which the members had performed their arduous duties.

The jury evidently eliminated the plea of self-defense from the case, nor did they appear to believe that the statement that Caro had made threats against Matafro, as was dwelt upon by the commonwealth in the trial.

Caro's Narrow Escape.

When the jury took its first ballot it decided to find Caro guilty of murder in the first degree, and Mastrianna guilty of murder in the second degree, but after talking the matter over decided that the same verdict must be rendered against both men. This is why Caro escaped being sent to the electric chair, the jury having no doubt of his guilt, but through a misunderstanding, giving both men the same degree of crime.

Caro the Leader.

It was evident to those who listened in these cases that Caro was the leader in the trouble which culminated in the death of Matafro, and that if Mastrianna had anything to do with the murder his work consisted in joining in the plot against Matafro's life and not in the use of a weapon on the day of the shooting. The consensus of opinion is that Caro and Mastrianna have received no more than they deserved. They are by no means desirable citizens, and the town they will serve in the penitentiary may be a wholesome lesson to them that while they are in America they cannot engage in vendettas or other murderous acts.

BICYCLE TRIP

Monday morning is the time for the six-day bicycle trip to start. Every fellow that is going is looking forward to a great time on the trip. Anyone who wishes to go and is not yet signed up, should do so at once. Expenses will not exceed $5. The only necessary equipment is a blanket, puncture repairs, and a bicycle. Everyone should be on hand bright and early Monday morning so that the bunch can be able to start by 6 o'clock. Indiana will be the trip for the first day.

BOND MEASURE PASSES COUNCIL

Will Bear Four Per Cent. Interest and Run For 30 Years

COUNCIL WILL AID FIREMEN

To Look After Interests of Several Companies—Representative of Pittsburgh Company Talks on Street Surfacing—Councilman Tate Resigns—Special Session.

There was considerable discussion of more or less important questions at the session of borough council on Wednesday night and the sum of the business transacted was not great.

Burgess Callahan reported a large number of violations of the sanitary laws by property owners on Daisy street, who use outside closets, although that street is provided with sewers. The board of health will look into this matter, as it will also investigate similar cases on Dorey street.

Awaiting the maps necessary to provide the necessary data the matter of vacating an alley on Dr. Neveling's property on the West Side was postponed.

Want Street Widened.

Attention of council was called to the fact that a part of Front street on the West Side, which ought to be as wide as the other section of the street, is only about ten feet wide and that it could be made the proper width by cutting off a portion of the lot of J. Boynton Neveling. The matter will be further looked into.

Fourth ward firemen, who some years ago bought a lot for a fire engine house, paying $200 down and agreeing to pay $200 more and who now find that they have an elephant on their hands, petitioned council to come to their aid. It has been learned that the lot in question is one of several upon which a mortgage has been filed, and under the circumstances it is likely that an effort will be made to sell the lot and buy another one, unless the holder of the mortgage will except the lot from his lien.

Some Suggestions.

Former President of Council Rosebery was present and made some suggestions as to improvements on Bigler avenue, including the necessity for repairing sidewalks, removal of a pile of junk along the street, and urged council to issue the forthcoming bonds in denominations small enough to enable small investors to purchase them.

A representative of the Barrett Manufacturing company, of Pittsburgh was present and spoke at length upon the proposition of his company to resurface South Second street with a compound, stating that the work could be done for about 60 or 65 cents per square yard.

Bond Ordinance Passed.

The ordinance relating to the issuing of bonds was read and adopted. The bill provides that the bonds shall bear four per cent. interest, be issued in denominations of $100 and $500 and run until 1944, although the borough may redeem them earlier. The finance committee recommended that the first money be expended in meeting the needs of the fire companies in paving and curbing Daisy street, and in placing sewer on Spruce street.

It was decided to make the percentage for collecting taxes this year the same as in 1913, with the usual rebates and penalties.

The matter of straightening Latimer street was thoroughly discussed, and the borough solicitor was directed to look into the legal phases of the question.

Councilman Tate Resigns.

Councilman Abe Tate, of the Third ward, tendered his resignation as a member of council, and it was accepted. Mr. Tate will devote his entire time to his stone quarry, and feels that he would not be doing his duty to his constituents were he to remain in council. Council will elect a successor to Mr. Tate in the near future.

There will be a special session of council next Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking up and passing upon the improvements which council expects to make in the borough this summer, and to transact such other business as may come before the body.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Board of Trustees Not Yet Organized in Clearfield.

Women from all over the state assembled in Pittsburgh for the first annual conference of the mothers' pension boards of Pennsylvania. The initial session was marked by the delivery of an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong.

After luncheon, the delegates heard the reports of officers and chairmen of committees and disposed of other routine business. Speaker Alter, of the state house of representatives, Rabbi Coffee, Rev. Thomas Devlin, Auditor General Powell and others prominent in the mothers' pensions movement and in state politics, addressed the body. The conference will consume four days, sessions being held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

"Up to this time the Clearfield county trustees of the mothers' pension fund have not met to organize. The county commissioners are prepared to pay pensions recommended by the trustees and wait the action of the board in the matter.

FRESHMEN PICNIC

Girls Defeat Boys in an Exciting Baseball Game.

On Wednesday afternoon about 50 members of the Freshmen class had a very delightful class picnic at Golden Rod camp, near the mouth of Clearfield creek. A most exciting game of baseball took place between the girls and the boys. The boys went down to defeat under the expert pitching of Mary Liveright. Elizabeth Reed showed much skill as a catcher.

A relay race and various games followed the ball game. A very sumptuous lunch was served to which all of the Freshmen did ample justice. Miss Jane Edwards and George Algier acted as chaperons.

Present Your Bills.

The Senior class of 1914 is about to dissolve. "Time" has issued an injunction against it doing business as a corporate body. Persons having an account against this class will present the same to Geo. E. Zerfoss, the appointed receiver.

AGAIN, HUERTA WILL RESIGN, IT

"Political Postmaster" Mexico Now His Goal

ALL DEPENDS ON CARRANZA

Statement by Dictator's Delegates. Niagara Conference Shows the United States in South America. From Armies of Villa and Huerta. Trying to Influence Huerta.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—Main issues in the Mexican situation again noted with Washington. Mexican delegates to the mothers' conference have formally stated that General Huerta is ready to resign but mostly placed in their statement are two words, setting forth the conditions under which the dictator will abdicate, which put the issue up to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

Huerta is prepared to withdraw when Mexico is "politically peaceful" and this means that the United States must bring pressure to bear on General Carranza to lay down his arms and deny the right of Huerta to act under any conditions as to his abdication. General Huerta will not allow Mexico to be at peace, when there is an organized revolt in progress; when the men of the armies now in the field shall have returned to their homes in order is restored.

This, it was learned, was the condition intended to be conveyed in the statement which the Mexican delegates were authorized to issue as setting forth the position of the dictator.

The Mexican delegates do not expect that disorganized bands which may be scattered throughout the country in subdued before Huerta steps out, as they are merely regarded as bandits. But they do expect "political peace" which means cessation of hostilities to the north.

That Huerta has taken the position that the United States must move him from the Constitution, and that Huerta is the better here. The reply of the mediators to the note of the Constitutionalists will be received by Rafael Zubaran of the Constitutionalists in Washington. This reply is understood to ask again whether the Constitutionalists are willing to discuss an armistice and discuss internal as well as international questions in the conference here.

Much depends on the final answer General Carranza may make to these demands.

WHY?
Why is it called a commencement?
Probably because graduates only then
discover that they are beginning to
learn something.

Good evening! Of course you remember how proud you were when
you graduated, although you may
have been at the bottom of the class.

BOY SCOUTS.
The organization of a Boy Scout
company in Clearfield should receive
the hearty approval of every parent
in the town. The Boy Scouts is an organization which seeks to make
manly, courteous and self-reliant men
out of the boys of the United States.
The Scouts is not a military body;
they do not train under a military instructor, do not carry arms and are not taught to regard themselves as
soldiers.

The Boy Scouts are expected to
obey orders, to stand together in
trouble, to keep themselves in good
moral and physical condition and to
so conduct themselves that they will
win the respect and cooperation of all
citizens. The movement has the indorsement of those who have the best interests of the boys at heart. Clear-
field parents should encourage their
youngsters to join the movement begun in the East End by Rev. Mr.
Peters to organize the Boy Scouts in
this town.

The boy who unites with the Boy Scouts and lives up to the rules and
regulations of the organization will
soon to do anything which is wrong
and will endeavor to improve his character. He will cease to run at large
at night or to loaf in or about pool
rooms. He will be taught that if he wishes to become a success in life he
must be honest and honorable in all

things. Can anybody see anything
wrong in this kind of a movement?

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS.
The members of the Clearfield
High school class of 1914 have launched their barks upon the sea of life.
They have been given good advice
as to how to steer their barks by the
school authorities and others, and if
they follow the instructions of their
pilots they will eventually enter the
harbor of success without having encountered more than the ordinary
number of storms and troubles.

Each one of these graduates ought
to be equipped to meet and over-
come the difficulties, trials and tribu-
lations which beset the feet of human
beings. No member of the graduating class should permit the machinery of his or her mind or body to become rusty from disuse but all should
strive to win success by hard work
and perseverance. The goal of success is only won by those who keep
marching steadily forward, overcom-
ing all obstacles and taking advantage of every opportunity for advancement.

Parents and friends will watch the
progress made by the students and
every step forward will be applauded
and encouraged. Nobody wishes to
place obstacles in the way of the
boy or girl who shows that he or
she is striving for the better things
of this life, everybody will deplore it
if any of the students who put behind them school life shall fall by
the wayside or prove that they have
not the stamina and determination
to win their way through the world.

Clearfield county sure looms up
large at the Central state normal
school at Lock Haven. And the Clear
field county students at that institution do not remain in the background
either.

No more murder trials in this county until fall, at least.

HUERTA TELLS OF AN ATTEMPT ON HIS LIFE

Four Students Held, Charged With Shooting at Dictator.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 4.—Four students in the Agricultural school at Ta-
cuba, near Mexico City, are held in solitary confinement in the Santiago military prison charged with the attempt-
ed assassination of Provisional President Huerta, at whom they fired four shots last Sunday night. Two of the bullets lodged in the tonneau of Huer-
ta's touring car, while two others whiz-
ed dangerously near his head. The fate of the students is undecided, but
it is probable they will be shot.

The attempted assassination of Huer-
ta took place as the provisional president was returning from the military
execution of a number of mutinous federal soldiers who had been shot at Huerta's orders. The military execution took place against a wall of the Agricultural college, and all the students were compelled to line up behind
the firing squad and witness the killing, Huerta declaring it would inspire
them with loyalty and with dread of
revolt.

The story is told by one of the most prominent English residents of Mexico
City, who has just reached Vera Cruz

Huerta said, according to the English-
man:

"It was the closest call I have had.
After the revolting troops had been
shot I ordered the chauffeur to drive
on to Popotla. We had motored only
a few yards when four rifle shots were fired at me.

"I made the chauffeur stop the automobile and returned to the school
to investigate. I found seven young
students, and when I questioned them
three confessed and put the blame on
their four companions."

DEATHS OF A DAY.

Rev. J. M. Wheeler, eighty-four, died in Marietta, Pa. He was the oldest active
minister in Lancaster county.

George A. Traylor, sixty-two, special
agent of the United States department of labor, died in Philadelphia. He had been in the government service twenty-eight
years.

Arthur Cash, twenty-one years old, of Jamestown, N. Y., died in a hospital from
the effects of a blow on the head by a
pitched ball during a baseball game on Memorial day.

Mary E. Cheney, one of the most active
temperance workers in New England, died
in Dorchester from a fractured skull and
other injuries sustained three hours before when she fell down a flight of stairs.

Colonel George J. Krus, for years partner of the late Congressman Timothy D.
Sullivan, died in New York. His death
did not come as a surprise. Shortly after
"Big Tim" died the health of his partner
began to break, and two months ago his
condition became serious.

THE VANITIE.

Defender For the Cup.

Alexander Smith Cochran's bronze hulled
yacht Vanitie heeled under the pressure
of a fresh wind so that her rail was almost down to the water's edge as she
crossed the finishing line in the first race
for the cup defenders a winner. She was
close hauled on the wind and had sailed
the last six and one-eighth miles of the
course at the rate of 10.35 nautical miles
an hour, which is very fast for a seventy-five footer. As she swept between the
flashing cone and the committee boat the
whistles of a hundred yachts screeched
congratulations, and the crew of the
steam yacht Mohican, led by Frederick
M. Davies, gave three rousing cheers for
the winner.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys Occasionally if
you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat
regularly can make a mistake by
flushing the kidneys occasionally, say
a well-known authority. Meat forms
uric acid which excites the kidneys,
they become over-worked from the
strain get sluggish and fail to filter
the waste and poisons from the blood
then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness sleeplessness and
urinary disorders come from sluggish
kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache
in the kidneys or your back hurts or
if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full
of sediment, irregular of passage or
attended by a sensation of scalding,
stop eating meat and get about four
ounces of Jad Salts from any phar-
macy; take a tablespoonful in a glass
of water before breakfast and in a
few days your kidneys will act fine.
This famous salts is made from the
acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used
for generations to flush and stimulate
the kidneys, also to neutralize the
acids in urine so it no longer causes
irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot
injure; makes a delightful efferves-
cent lithia-water drink which every-
one should take now and then to
keep the kidneys clean and active
and the blood pure, thereby avoiding
serious kidney complications.

SAYS CAPT. KENDALL TRIED TO DROWN SELF

Official Relates How He Clung to Rail of Vessel.

Montreal, June 4.—That Captain H. G. Kendall of the Empress of Ireland tried to go down with his ship when she was rammed by the Storstad was the statement made here by a high official of the Canadian Pacific railroad.

This official said that the captain was so unstrung that he was still unable to give a detailed story of what he saw after the crash. He added: "The awful scenes Captain Kendall witnessed are too strongly impressed on his mind. I am convinced he intended to go down with his ship. He says that when the bridge touched the water he gripped the rail, intending to go down with his vessel and die at his post, but that when the ventilators went under there was an explosion that broke his grip and blew him to the surface."

Revelations are expected to come when the special commission named to investigate the disaster sits on July 9. Others are looked for when the inquiry is resumed at Father Point on Saturday. Three third class passengers are held there in order that their stories may be told regarding dark deeds in the steerage, where 718 passengers made a mad fight for safety.

Then it is believed the stab wounds found on many of the bodies will be explained.

It is reported that a number of the frenzied passengers, mostly foreigners, drew weapons in their effort to make their way from their quarters, which were far below the water line. When some bodies were picked up knives were still held in clenched hands.

The story is told that the body of at least one woman who tried to climb the stairs from below bore three long knife wounds.

Then He Went.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any druggist a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

TARRYTOWN READY FOR I. W. W. INVASION

Hot Asphalt on Streets to Break Up Meeting.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 4.—There will be no demonstration in Fountain square, in Tarrytown, by Alexander Belknap or I. W. W. or any one else for a few days to come. Fountain square was the battleground on Saturday and Sunday, and it was there that it was announced the protesting meeting would be held. The village council in the course of repairing the streets of the village flooded the square with the soft, tarlike asphalt preparation that is used and then spread some gravel over it. It will be several days before it can be stood upon with comfort by either orator or audience.

The village authorities have sworn in fifty men, who will be delegated by Sheriff Doyle as special deputies. They will be on call at any time, day or night, ready to aim themselves with their badges and batons and fall in with the police and deputy sheriffs. Only residents of the vicinity will be called upon for this service.

East Liverpool, O., June 4.—An effort is being made by John H. Duffy, an organizer of the American Federation of Labor, to form the teachers of East Liverpool public schools into a local of the federation. MORE PAINTINGS RUINED.

Hacked With Hatchet by Young Woman Whom He Was Trying to Re-

Pictures—Disarmed and Captured.
Other Outrages.

London, June 4.—A savage attack with a hatchet was made by a young militant suffragette on an attendant at the Dore gallery, who tried to prevent her destroying the valuable pictures on exhibition there. The woman who thus abandoned the principle of the sanctity of human life hitherto professed by militant suffragettes, had already ruined two paintings in the gallery, which is in New Bond Street, the heart of the fashionable quarter of London.

She was proceeding to hack a third picture when an attendant named Bourlet seized her arm. The vandal turned on the man furiously and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him. Other attendants rushed to the spot and quickly overpowered and disarmed her. She kicked, struggled and screamed for several minutes until she was banded over to the police.

The woman appeared to be of good education and was fashionably gowned.

Holloway Jail Doctor Whipped.

Suffragettes wreaked their vengeance for a second time on Dr. Francis Edward Forward, deputy governor and medical officer of Holloway Jail. Two women, armed with stout horsewhips, sprang upon the doctor as he left the prison and were thrashing him severely when a policeman came to his rescue and arrested his assailants. The women declared that their action was a protest against the "forcible feeding," for which this beast is responsible.

Dr. Forward refused to charge the women with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct. Once before, on Oct. 11, 1913, Dr. Forward was attacked in a similar manner.

An "arson squad" of suffragettes set fire to and destroyed a large cricket pavilion at Earlfield, to the southwest of London.

A dispatch from Belfast, Ireland, says an attempt was made near there by suffragettes to burn a residence, but it was discovered in time, and little damage was done.

DEDICATED HALL

Colored Masons Have a Very Pleasant Time at Franklin.

W. Banks Holmes, William Holmes Mason Russell and Willard Moore, of this place, went to Franklin Monday to represent West Branch lodge, No. 96, Masons, at the dedication of the handsome new hall erected by the colored Masons of that city. They returned last night, delighted with their trip, full of praise for the pretty, clean city of Franklin and grateful to the people of that place for courtesies received.

The hall was dedicated on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock followed by a banquet at 6 P. M. with dancing later. Many state officials of the order were present and took part in the ceremonies of dedication, and it was a big day for the colored Masons of this place of the state. Banks says that Franklin is a very pretty town, where the man who spits on the sidewalk is fined $1 and which is "dry" but he will not say how he discovered this latter fact.

but I believe more strongly in the having of ideals. Each man has an ideal that he is constantly trying to live up to, even if he will not acknowledge it. I believe in an education which gives to the student high ideals. There are people who say that the idealist is a dreamer and never gets any where because he aims too high. It is not so; the man with a well-developed ideal climbs higher than the man without.

I believe in an eight-hour day for the man who needs it. But the time of danger which tests a man's character does not come during the working hours; it comes during his leisure time. The boy is safe during the hours he is in school, it is the time between four and whatever hour of night or morning that mars his life. Recreation is needed only when there has been sufficient work before. The life of the scholar is not the soft snap, which some people think it is. It is just as hard physically as digging a ditch. The scholar's body is tired and worn just as much by his labor as the ditch digger's by his. There is no noble calling. It is the man who makes it noble. The cobbler on his bench who says like Hiram Dobson: "I'm a cobbler, by the Grace of God", ennoble his calling. So it is with all walks of life. What so ever path you choose, if you live a truthful, honest noble life yours is a noble calling."

This was followed by the benediction by Rev. Mr. Johns and the audience was dismissed.
